

8:00 - 8:30 Registration – Coffee/tea (ISPED-BPH Hall) 8:30 - 9:00 Introductions Laurent Servant Vice President, International Network, University of Bordeaux 5 Mathoulin-Pelissier/ A Parientz/ R Thiebaut Richard Martin University of Bristol 9:00-10:00 TOPIC 1. GLOBAL HEALTH Coordinators/chairs: Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis Jack Stone Evaluating the contribution of structural factors to HIV and Hepatitis C virus transmission Natalia Lewis Health system responses to violence against women in low- and middle-income countries Olivier Marcy Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10:00-11:00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Jasmine Khouja Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11:00-11:30 Break and discussions 11:30-12:30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health	TT 12 April 2021, Bordedax
8:30 - 9:00 Introductions Laurent Servant Vice President, International Network, University of Bordeaux S Mathoulin-Pelisiser/ A Parienter R Thiebaut Richard Martin University of Bristol 9:00-10:00 TOPIC 1. GLOBAL HEALTH Coordinators/chairs: Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis Jack Stone Evaluating the contribution of structural factors to HIV and Hepatitis C virus transmission Natalia Lewis Health system responses to violence against women in low- and middle-income countries Olivier Marcy Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10:00-11:00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Jasmine Khouja Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00-11.30 Break and discussions 11.30-12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Using in a partiership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)		April 11 th 2024
8:30 - 9:00 Introductions Laurent Servant Vice President, International Network, University of Bordeaux S Mathoulin-Pelisiser/ A Parienter R Thiebaut Richard Martin University of Bristol 9:00-10:00 TOPIC 1. GLOBAL HEALTH Coordinators/chairs: Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis Jack Stone Evaluating the contribution of structural factors to HIV and Hepatitis C virus transmission Natalia Lewis Health system responses to violence against women in low- and middle-income countries Olivier Marcy Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10:00-11:00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Jasmine Khouja Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00-11.30 Break and discussions 11.30-12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Using in a partiership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	0.00 0.20	Desired Coffee (to a (ICDED DDILLIAII))
Laurent Servant S Mathoulin-Pelissier/A Parienter/ R Thiebaut Richard Martin University of Bordeaux University of Bordeaux University of Bordeaux P.00-10.00 TOPIC 1. GLOBAL HEALTH Coordinators/chairs: Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis Jack Stone Evaluating the contribution of structural factors to HIV and Hepatitis C virus transmission Natalia Lewis Health system responses to violence against women in low- and middle-income countries Olivier Marcy Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Jusing genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study Personal Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Antoine Pariente Antoine Pariente Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)
S Mathoulin-Pelissier/ A Pariente/ R Thiebaut Richard Martin University of Bordeaux University of Bristol 9.00–10.00 TOPIC 1. GLOBAL HEALTH Coordinators/chairs : Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis Jack Stone Evaluating the contribution of structural factors to HIV and Hepatitis C virus transmission Natalia Lewis Health system responses to violence against women in low- and middle-income countries Olivier Marcy Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10.00–11.00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs : Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer ULCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Inaki Blanco-Cazeaux Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs : Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)
Pariente/ R Thiebaut Richard Martin University of Bristol 9.00–10.00 TOPIC 1. GLOBAL HEALTH Coordinators/chairs: Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis Jack Stone Evaluating the contribution of structural factors to HIV and Hepatitis C virus transmission Natalia Lewis Health system responses to violence against women in low- and middle-income countries Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10.00–11.00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)		Vice President, International Network, University of Bordeaux
Richard Martin University of Bristol 7 OPIC 1. GLOBAL HEALTH Coordinators/chairs: Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis Jack Stone Evaluating the contribution of structural factors to HIV and Hepatitis C virus transmission Natalia Lewis Health system responses to violence against women in low- and middle-income countries Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10.00–11.00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Jasmine Khouja Yaniss Belaroussi LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)		University of Bordeaux
Coordinators/chairs: Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis Jack Stone		University of Bristol
Coordinators/chairs: Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis Jack Stone
Jack Stone Evaluating the contribution of structural factors to HIV and Hepatitis C virus transmission Natalia Lewis Health system responses to violence against women in low- and middle-income countries Olivier Marcy Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10.00–11.00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	9.00–10.00	TOPIC 1. GLOBAL HEALTH
transmission Natalia Lewis Health system responses to violence against women in low- and middle-income countries Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10.00—11.00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer UCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00—11.30 Break and discussions 11.30—12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Coordinators/chair	s : Peter Vickerman / Francois Dabis
Countries Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10.00–11.00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Jasmine Khouja Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Jack Stone	- '
Olivier Marcy Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in Sub-Saharan Africa Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy 10.00–11.00 TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Inaki Blanco-Cazeaux Angéline Galvin Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Natalia Lewis	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
Antoine Jaquet Cancer elimination in sub-Saharan Africa, prevention as a key strategy TOPIC 2. CANCER EPIDEMIOLOGY AND HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH Coordinators/chairs: Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer Yaniss Belaroussi LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Olivier Marcy	Childhood tuberculosis - transferring research results in policies and practices in
Rebecca Richmond Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Antoine Jaquet
Rebecca Richmond Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)
Rebecca Richmond Using genetic risk scores to evaluate socio-economic, behavioural and health determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.30–12.30 Break and discussions TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	10.00–11.00	Topic 2. Cancer epidemiology and Health Services Research determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization approach Jasmine Khouja Exploring the impact of smoking and smoking cessation on lung cancer LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Coordinators/chairs	s : Richard Martin / Alain Monnereau
Jasmine Khouja Yaniss Belaroussi LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Inaki Blanco-Cazeaux Angéline Galvin Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Rebecca Richmond	determinants of cancer screening participation: a Mendelian randomization
Yaniss Belaroussi LUCSO: French pilot trial of LUng Cancer Screening with low-dose computed tomography in a population exposed to Occupational lung carcinogens Accessing health care for people with chronic conditions: evidence from France Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Jasmine Khouja
Inaki Blanco-Cazeaux Angéline Galvin Angéline Galvin Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Antoine Pariente Vianney Jouhet Vianney Jouhet Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	_
Are oldest old individuals with cancer different than their younger counterparts? Results from the INCAPAC study 11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Antoine Pariente Vianney Jouhet Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)
11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Antoine Pariente Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)		- , ,
11.00–11.30 Break and discussions 11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Vianney Jouhet Copportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Angéline Galvin	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
11.30–12.30 TOPIC 3. ADMINISTRATIVE HEALTH DATABASE Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Vianney Jouhet Vianney Jouhet Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Opportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)		Results from the incarac study
Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Vianney Jouhet Vianney Jouhet Copportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	11.00–11.30	Break and discussions
Coordinators/chairs: Rachel Denholm / Vianney Jouhet Rachel Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Vianney Jouhet Vianney Jouhet Copportunities in accessing population-wide, linked, electronic health record data in England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)
Rachel Denholm Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Vianney Jouhet Charlotte Jouhet Charlotte Jouhet Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Charlotte James Charlot
Charlotte James Charlotte James Antoine Pariente Vianney Jouhet England Using local linked electronic health record data to support service planning and delivery: working in partnership with commissioners and clinicians Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Coordinators/chair
Antoine Pariente Antoine Pariente Antoine Pariente Antoine Pariente Antoine Pariente Antoine Pariente Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Rachel Denholm	11
Antoine Pariente Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of benzodiazepines, related substances, and other anxiolytics. Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Charlotte James
Constructing hospital-based near-real-time health indicators through the secondary Vianney Jouhet reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)	Antoine Pariente	Impact of implementing secure prescription for zolpidem (Stilnox) on the use of
on data warehouses (ORCHIDEE Project)		·
	Vianney Jouhet	reuse of data from French hospital information systems, with a particular emphasis
	12.30–14.00	Lunch and discussions

	A :1 4.4th 200.4
	April 11 th 2024
14.00–15.00	TOPIC 4. PUBLIC HEALTH INTERVENTIONS
Coordinators/cha	airs : Matt Hickman / Geneviève Chêne
Matt Hickman	Linked data sets measuring OAT and drug related mortality and prevalence of opioid use
Gemma Hammerton	Adolescent alcohol and mental health in young people
C Kervran/C Monin	Theory-based development and pragmatic randomized evaluation of an organizational intervention for smoking cessation during pregnancy
S Vandentorren	Strengthening vaccine uptake in hard-to-reach and vaccine hesitant communities in France.
15.00–16.00	TOPIC 5. HIGH DIMENSIONAL AND OMICS DATA
Coordinators/chairs : Carolina Borges / Rodolphe Thiébaut
Nancy McBride	Utility of omics data for improving prediction of pregnancy complications
Carolina Borges	Harnessing genetics and omics data to improve evidence on the effects of medication use in pregnancy
Ilana Caro	Proteogenomics in cerebrospinal fluid and plasma reveals new biological fingerprint of cerebral small vessel disease
Rodolphe Thiébaut	Revisiting whole blood and single cell gene expression to evaluate the immune
,	response to vaccines
16.00–16.30	Break
16.30–17.30	Topic 6. Brain Health
Coordinators/chairs : Patrick Kehoe/Cedric Galera
Christina Dardani	Immunological causal drivers and novel drug targets for major psychiatric, neurodevelopmental, and neurodegenerative conditions: findings from Mendelian randomization and genetic colocalization analyses
Ruby Tsang	Developmental trajectories of depressive symptoms in young people and their clinical and blood biomarker associations: findings from the ALSPAC birth cohort
Marie Navarro	Cytokine networks analyses (cord blodd and children at 5 years) related to behavioral symptoms in the ELFE cohort
Jeanne Neuffer	Lifestyle for brain health score, genetic risk and incidence of dementia
17.30–18.00	DISCUSSIONS AND WRAP-UP
Coordinators/chairs : Richard Martin/Carole Dufouil
19.00–23.00	DINNER, Le Domaine de Raba

April 12th 2024

8.30–9.30	TOPIC 7. EDUCATION PARTNERSHIPS/JOINT SUPERVISIONS
Coordinators/cha	irs : Kaitlin Wade / Rodolphe Thiébaut
Pauline Carreau Sam Moussaoui	University of Bordeaux, International office
9.30–10.30	TOPIC 8. CAUSAL INFERENCE IN OBSERVATIONAL STUDIES
Coordinators/cha	irs : Jonathan Sterne / Cécile Proust-Lima
Jonathan Sterne	First, second and booster dose COVID-19 vaccine effectiveness and comparative effectiveness: causal inference using whole-population linked electronic health records
Helen Russell	Estimating the impact of extra invitations to breast cancer screening between ages 64-70 years: target trial emulation using routinely collected screening data
Marie Alexandre	Modeling the response to vaccine in non-human primates to define mechanistic correlates of protection - Application to SARS-CoV-2
Cécile Proust-Lima	Continuous-time mediation analysis for repeatedly measured mediators and outcomes - application to cerebral aging.
10.30–11.30	TOPIC 9. TRIALS
Coordinators/chairs : Rebecca Kearney / Laura Richert
Rebecca Kearney and Matt Ridd	Intro and Complex interventions in GP setting
Laura Richert	Early phase vaccine trials
Lucy Culliford	Late phase vaccine trials
Linda Wittkop	International trials
Lucy Culliford	Platform trials - bringing a team together and protocol development
Edouard Lhomme	Platform trials - experience of delivery
11.30–12.00	ACTIONS / PLENARY AND WRAP UP
Coordinators/cha	irs : Jonathan Sterne / Carole Dufouil

SPONSORS

Deliverables:

show-and-tell between Bristol and Bordeaux researchers, identify if there is any scope for collaboration, identify funding sources to facilitate research collaboration and researcher exchange, production of symposium proceedings (e.g. with summary from theme leads)